PUNE GUIDE
In order for this guide to reflect the growth and continuing development of the city of Pune, it will be updated annually and reissued each spring.

Please send your comments or offerings, or anything you think should be included to: bobby@bobbyclennell.com. If you notice that a phone number listed in this guide doesn’t work or is redundant, let me know. If you can clarify any of this information, e.g., if you can complete an address, or you notice that an address has changed, please notify me. All contributions that are of benefit to students and teachers of Iyengar yoga who are on their way to Pune will be included.

I am very grateful to the teachers and students who continue to submit material for the Guide. Heartfelt thanks also to future contributors who will help to keep this resource alive and relevant. Special thanks to Robert Cory for his editing assistance.

Bon Voyage! May this guide help oil your yoga wheels and speed you on your way to a meaningful and safe stay in Pune.

Namaste,

Bobby Clennell

VISA REQUIREMENTS

Visas are mandatory for India. For New York students: In effect from October 1, 2007, visa applicants are requested to obtain an Indian visa through Travisa Outsourcing, Inc., at their website: http://indiavisa.travisaoutsourcing.com. Any queries related to Indian visa services may also be directed to: Travisa Outsourcing Inc., 316 East 53rd Street, Second Floor, New York, NY 10022. Tel: (212) 754-9900 and www.indiacgny.org.

Do not leave this until the last minute as it takes several visits to complete the paperwork. You will need the addresses of two people in India for recommendations (and as of January 2010, your birth certificate). Iyengar students often use RIMYI for one of the addresses and the address of their hotel or landlord in Pune for the other. You will also need the exact dates of your arrival in and departure from India.

IMPORTANT!! READ THIS:

In your visa application or interview, do not say you’re going to study yoga or take classes; always state you are a tourist. If consulate officials learn you’re going to study yoga, they will assign you a visa specific for Yoga or Vedic studies, which will require you to register, within two weeks of your arrival in India, with the FRO (Foreign Registry Office) at the Pune Police Commissioner, where you’ll receive a Residential Permit. If you don’t register there, you may have trouble later on leaving the country.

How to tell if you can’t remember what you filled out on your Visa application form: Check your visa where it says TYPE and it should be stamped T for tourist. In that case you are fine. If you have another letter stamped you would need to make an inquiry before you leave for India.

When a visiting student (mistakenly) got a “yoga studies” visa back in 2009, Indian immigration wrote the name of the institute (RIMYI) on the visa and an additional stamp saying, “Registration required within 30 days of arrival in India”.

Make three to four copies of your passport and visa to take with you to Pune, along with additional passport photos. This will save you time and energy at RIMYI, for registering with your landlord, and for when you go to get a SIM card for your phone or a dongle for the Internet.

Please note: A thirty-day visa on arrival (for most countries) will be available from Mumbai and Delhi airports soon.
TICKET

IMPORTANT: Be sure to take a printed copy of your e-ticket (flight schedule or itinerary) from the airline or travel agent when you go to the airport (both domestic and international trips). Tip: Save it on a pen drive (USB or memory stick) and take to a Xerox shop (they have printers). Also Roots & Wings can assist RIMYI students with printing. You will not be allowed into the airport terminal without the printed itinerary.

WHAT TO BRING:

- First aid kit
- Flashlight (for walking at night or blackouts)
- Charger for your digital camera
- If staying in a hotel, a kettle for boiling water
- Your favorite tea or coffee
- Your favorite muesli
- Vitamins
- Pro-biotics
- If staying in a hotel, seal-able zip lock bags to store food
- Business cards
- Tampons
- Sunblock
- Alarm clock
- Small backpack for carrying items to class and for shopping
- Good walking sandals and/or shoes *(Pune streets are dusty and dirty. Bring a pair of shoes that cover your feet.)
- Sarong
- Three sets of yoga clothes
- Small clothesline with clothespins
- Inflatable hangers to avoid wrinkles made by clothespins
- Kitchen gloves are impossible to find in Pune.
- Medications and prescriptions (painkillers, anti-diarrheal drugs, general antibiotics, antiseptic cream, re-hydration salts, and cold and cough medications)

- AC adapter with converter—may also be purchased in Pune (The standard converter I brought with me from the U.S. didn’t work, whereas the one I brought locally in Pune did work. Ed.) It’s also possible to use a simple adapter for European outlets because many electronic devices do not require converters as they are manufactured for global use.

- If attending during the winter months (November through January), a shawl, sweater or lightweight jacket for early mornings and evenings

- Glue stick: envelopes do not come with glue on the flap. Likewise, stamps are not provided with glue – and post office glue is not very sticky.

- If you are going to get your hair dyed while you are in Pune, remember to bring your own hair products and don’t forget the developer!
• Most restaurants provide washing facilities and towels for customers but baby or bacterial wipes might also be a useful backup. Antibacterial hand cleanser comes in handy too as soap is not always available.

• The Lonely Planet Guide to India is the Bible for travelers to the subcontinent. The book has a fairly up-to-date section on Pune. It's massive, though, so consider cutting out only the sections you'll need. You can also download specific chapters of the guide for download from the Lonely Planet online store http://shop.lonelyplanet.com/world/india-travel-guide-15/ for those areas you intend to visit.

• If you have been shopping in Pune and you find your suitcase is overweight, be prepared to purchase an extra case in Pune.

• Rimyi will ask you for a passport-sized photo of yourself. Bring a few if you are thinking of purchasing a cell phone card or dongle device for the Internet in Pune.

• Copies of your passport, visa and visa stamp (one set for Rimyi, and two sets for your landlord or landlady who have to register you with the authorities), plus copies for cell phone cards and internet devices.

• Look for Rimyi on Google Earth. Print out a map of the immediate area, especially the triangle between Ferguson College Road and University Ave. The neighborhood is not laid out on a grid and can be disorienting. Local Pune maps are not detailed enough to show this. See also the map at the back of this guide.

Power Supply in India

In India, 220 volts are used to power small appliances. The plug points are three-pin with rounded ends. Use the local plug board with surge protection/combined voltage adapter, which work well and are easily found. A simple adapter to use with a European outlet works fine if the appliance is made for global use.

Airlines

Continental Airlines offers direct flights from the U.S. to Mumbai. Book early to get good round-trip rates.

Delta (Mumbai): Tel: (91-22) 2826 7000 or 2834 9890.

Delta (Pune): Tel: (91-20) 2612 5410. Email: png.delta@igatindia.com.

Jet Airways (Pune): 243-244, Century Arcade, B/2, Narangi Baug Road, Pune. Tel: (91-20) 2616 8153, 2612 7524. Maximum weight for national flights is 25 kg (55 lb.) regardless of the number of bags; the carry-on limit is 7 kg (about 15 lb.). (Jet Airways is an Indian airline. They have great art movies and classical music).

Jet Airways (USA): Tel: 732-339-1191. Jet Airways offers a free shuttle service between the international and domestic terminals; it runs every half hour, 24 hours a day. You must identify your checked luggage to an airline employee on the tarmac before you board the plane or your luggage will not be loaded onto the flight.
Lufthansa now fly direct to Pune from Frankfurt (now provides economy as well as business).

South African Airways (Pune): Tel: (91-20) 2612 5410.

Virgin-Atlantic (Delhi): Tel: (91-11) 5150 1300.

TRAVELING FROM MUMBAI TO PUNE

Travel time by car from Mumbai to Pune is four hours during the day and three hours at night.

Shuttle bus services

Sandi’s operates a shuttle bus service from Mumbai International Airport to Pune. Get in touch with Ms. Swati at tel.: (91-20) 2443 1155/66/77, or 2447 1464; sandis@sandis.com

You can also book individual cars from Sandi’s. Sandi’s can also be booked through the Chetak Hotel, tel: 2565 2681, or with Harshada Shirole: M: 98505690044 (India code: 0091). hotelchetak@gmail.com. www.sandis.com/Default.aspx

From Mumbai airport to Pune in February 2015, the price for a seat in a shared car was Rs. 950/-. You may have to wait for other passengers on later flights (usually just one hour or so). The driver and other passengers may also want to stop for drinks or snacks; or a ‘nap’, if it’s after midnight!!
If you want to book a car exclusively for yourself it will cost closer to Rs. 3,000/-. Note that the driver (from any company) may not speak any English, therefore avoid complicated sentences and try to use only the name of your destination or a landmark. One advantage of sharing a car: if the other passengers are Indian, they will be able to translate for you and help the driver get you to your destination.

Another company that provides transportation directly from the airport to Pune: www.prasannatours.com/airlink.htm.

A student’s tip on getting back to Mumbai by bus:

“On my way back I did follow the Yoga Spy’s advice (http://yogaspy.com/2014/08/03/mumbai-to-pune-by-bus/) to use Shivneri Volvo bus service (http://www.msrtc.gov.in/msrtc_live/index-eng.html) to Dadar East, which was well priced (Rs. 430/-), comfortable and efficient. It did not bring me directly to the airport, but once you know how to navigate in India, it is not hard to do”.

By cab or bus between Mumbai and Pune

To avoid confusion, or misunderstanding, always book your transportation by email.

Dolphin Cars. Tel: 982-221-4872. Approximately Rs. 2,200.

DoDo Travels. Tel: 2716 0138.

Indian Express Taxi. Tel: 985-005-0855.

KK Travels. Rs. 650 per person from Mumbai to Pune. Email: kedar@kktravels.com.

Star Tours & Travel. 101, Kalindi Apts, (Vanasthali Bldg.) 318/19B Canal Road, Model Colony, Pune – 4511 016. Brand new Tavera/Indica & all types of tourist vehicles available on hire. Murtuza Dashi is Gulnaz and Ali Dashi’s brother and is 100% reliable. Star Travel provides a private car for arrival and departure to and from Mumbai International Airport and the domestic airport in Pune. Tel: 985-004-7885. Tel: +91 -20 – 25677791, 56258294. Email: madashti@yahoo.co.in

Tokekar Transportation Services, an enterprise run by Mr. Raj Tokekar, has for several years been providing safe, reliable and reasonably priced door-to-door transportation from Mumbai International Airport to Pune. Mob. 982-306-7511. Email: rajkumar_tokekar@yahoo.co.in.

Vikram. Highly recommended for the Mumbai/Pune run. Vikram More is extremely reliable and is also very knowledgeable about local Maratha history. Ask about day trips or tours. Tel: 985-050-8756; 988-106-0505; or land line number in Pune: 020-2421 3804. Email: vikram_more@yahoo.com.

Contact Hotel Chetak: hotelchetak@gmail.com, www.hotelchetak.com for the most reliable way to get to and from the airport. They have a range of clean, reliable cars suitable for any number of people. “The last time I did this, I paid Mrs Harshada Rs/-3,000, which was well worth the price I feel, for the security of knowing that the driver would find me at the airport and bring me into Pune safe and sound.” Day trips can also be arranged.

Sandi’s International Tours and Travels

5 Amit Complex
474, Sadashiv Peth, Tilak Rd, Pune-30
Tel: 020 2443 1155. Email: sandistravels@gmail.com
Contact Sandi’s directly or book from the Hotel Chetak. Sandis cars have a car pick up service to and from the airport. The service is very reliable but book in advance: sandis@gmail.com. They take 4 passengers, so no need to wait for hours to fill a mini-bus as was previously the case.

Roots & Wings Travel Management has been serving RIMYI students for past 12 years. They offer Private/Shuttle services between Mumbai International/domestic airports & Pune. Their cars are well maintained, insured and have experienced & polite drivers. Call Ms. Rucha, M: 91 992 306 3370. rootsndwings@rediffmail.com. 1122 Model Colony (diagonally opposite Hotel Ambassador). Pune 411016

And if your ride to Pune fails to show: There is a reliable car service that operates out of Mumbai Airport. As you leave customs, the “Authorized” (not yellow) cab office is on the right-hand side.

Note on tipping drivers:
One student asked her Indian friends who told her, “Indians don’t tip”. Although it is not expected from locals, personally, I always tip Rs 200 -300 for the Mumbai/Pune run (Ed.)

Trains from Mumbai to Pune

The Deccan Queen serves food, i.e., beans on toast for breakfast. Trains require an advance reservation, which you can get from any Mumbai travel agent. You can also make reservations online at http://www.irctc.co.in. Check PNR status & seats availability online at http://www.indianrail.gov.in. Train booking opens 2 months in advance prior to travel date, so be sure to make your travel arrangements in India accordingly.

The domestic and international air terminals are at separate locations with shuttle buses running between them. For more information, talk to the airline staff (also see Airlines above). Flights are limited between Mumbai and Pune since road and rail travel are far more popular.

ACCOMMODATIONS IN PUNE

Editors note: Since it has become impossible over the years to keep up with the ever-increasing prices of these apartments, I have decided to omit them altogether. I am regretfully unable to enter into any correspondence about these accommodations.

Apartments

Rents for the apartments where RIMYI students stay have escalated alarmingly in recent years. They are massively out of proportion to rents elsewhere in Model Colony and, furthermore, do not reflect the services offered. Often apartments are not clean, kitchens not adequately supplied with cooking utensils, Wi-Fi access out of date and not compatible with contemporary computers, and showers do not work. Horror stories run from cockroach infestations to being without hot water for most of the month to an unreliable supply of electricity (from within the apartment itself).

Warn landladies that their apartment will be dropped from the Guide unless they live up to the "Western" prices being demanded. "Hidden charges" are creeping in, with subsidies charged for Wi-Fi, electricity and more. When students come to the Institute their main priority is to study and practice. But it can take a whole week to settle the problems students find in these apartments. Ask your landlady to help you with your mobile phone needs ahead of time, provide you with some local electrical plugs and demand the apartment be "spring cleaned" before you arrive.

The last word on sent in by a landlady in Model Colony "Many landladies are extremely helpful and have helped people with all kinds of problems from broken bones, mental breakdowns to lost passports! Rents are high but sometimes the demands are too! People can be adrift in a very different culture and at times need a lot of support. It is not the equivalent to a let in your home-town".

The Chetak Hotel has decided to make rooms available to foreigners on a monthly basis, “apartment style” with cooking facilities, refrigerator, clean laundry, and free use of internet and Wi-Fi. Home cooked meals can be provided for an additional cost. Contact the Chetak for further information: www.hotelchetak.com, hotelchetak@gmail.com.

Guidelines for tipping maidservants

Unlike Europe and the U.S., India does not have tipping customs per-se, and practices vary greatly, even among the locals. Here are some guidelines from a foreign student living in Pune: “If you feel you got good service, then tip. If you feel let down—the maidservant decided to take a break and didn't let you know or she hardly cleaned—then don’t tip. Two hundred to three hundred rupees are plenty for one month if the work was done. This is much higher than what the locals pay, because when the maidservant is a regular worker, a good employer will help her with medical expenses, marriage costs, etc. There is an ongoing obligation to assist an employee in times of need. Tenants of one month (such as yoga students) do not have this responsibility. As students are only in the apartments for six to eight months of the year, maximum, tipping gives maidservants extra income to cover the lean times. Do not be bullied into over tipping, and do not let a maidservant bring in another person while working. Be polite, but keep a professional distance. Stealing is common, so keep all valuables locked away. Some landlords have maidservants that are treated like part of the family and trusted totally. Others employ servants randomly with no background checks or recommendations, putting tenants in a vulnerable position. If you want to give financial assistance to someone in need, by all means, help if you can. When our maidservant's husband nearly died, the tenants gave her money for medical bills. But always speak to the landlord/agent first to verify that the need is genuine.”

This was sent in to the Pune Guide more recently (2014) than the listing above. “I would like to point out that the recommended tip for maids is painfully low. Rs 200 is less than $4. I generally recommend a tip of Rs 50 to Rs 100 for a two-day stay. It is appreciation for work that few people would do today. We as residents pay 10 times more than we did just 4 years ago. What is the use of development if it doesn’t trickle down to the needy?”

Hotels in Pune

These are just a few of the more popular hotels in Pune:

A brief note on electronic hotel safes:

This came from a student who recently stayed in Pune: “On the surface, the prudent thing to do would be to use your hotel room safe. However, some of the electronic safes are prone to breaking down and have no master key, at least at the Ambience Hotel. The staff seemed sympathetic to my plight when the electronics on my safe quit and it wouldn’t open, but none of them had the authority to carry out the obvious and only solution: to pull it out of the wall and break it open. It took three days to get permission from the hotel manager before one of the staff could bash it open with a hammer.”

RAMAMANI IYENGAR MEMORIAL YOGA INSTITUTE (RIMYI)

RIMYI Address

Ramamani Iyengar Memorial Yoga Institute (RIMYI). 1107, B/1, Hare Krishna Mandir Road, Near Pune Central Mall, Model Colony, Shivaji Nagar, Pune 411016, Maharashtra, India. Tel (Mr. Pandurang Rao (aka Pandu): 91-0202565 6134. www.bksiyengar.com

Please remember that attending classes at the Institute is a privilege and not a right. All classes are taught in English. Students should have a working vocabulary in English and have listened to the many available CD’s of Prashantji and Geetaji’s classes to familiarize themselves with their pronunciation and use of terms. Knowing the Sanskrit names of all asana is required.

Before entering the Institute building, shoes must be removed and placed in the metal racks provided for that purpose. This area is protected and there is a guard to see that your shoes don’t disappear. Please do not put your shoes in a bag and take them into the Institute.

Checking in

- Check in with Pandu when you first arrive at the Institute. He is available from 9 am to 12 noon and 4 pm to 7 pm Monday through Saturday. Closed Sunday. Tel: 910202565-6134 (call him when he is at the Institute). Email: info@rimyi.org. This takes you to the Institute office. Mark your email ‘For Pandu’.
  - The Institute is closed on Sundays (except for the children’s class on Sunday morning).

- You will be assigned to the classes that Pandu has selected for you based on whether you are a first-time student or have attended previously. You will also be given a schedule for practice times in the asana hall. Certain classes are set, e.g., all female students must attend the Wednesday and Saturday women’s classes.

• Never try to take a class that you haven’t been assigned to. The Iyengars and Pandu will be informed, and they will not appreciate it.

• Pay Pandu for your course, the amount owed after your deposit. Class tuition may be paid in cashier’s checks, traveler’s checks, or cash—rupees, dollars or euros. Class fee for the month is $450/month.

• To observe either the general class or medical classes, one must request permission from Pandu and pay the class fee of $100.

• If you want to assist in the medical class, ask Pandu first. You must be certified at a Junior I level or higher to do so.

• Students foreign to India who arrive at the Institute without having been booked through the usual channels may be offered other 90-minute classes. Beginners and intermediate level classes are held every day except Sunday, when the Institute is closed. Participation in these classes is entirely at RIMYI’s discretion, so it helps if the student is not insistent. It also helps if the (non-beginner) student mentions the name of the iyengar teacher with whom he or she has been studying. The program starts on the first of the month and ends on the last day of the month; it may also be extended for more than one month.

• Advanced classes and practice sessions are offered on the first floor. Intermediate and beginner classes meet on the second floor (see above).

RIMYI Store

Store hours are from 9 am to 12 noon and 4 pm to 6 pm on weekdays and Saturday. The iyengars are wired for amplification and sound recording in the asana hall. CD’s of their classes are available at the store. Also available are DVD’s (when the class has been videotaped), books and props (but not sticky mats. Get them at Champion Sports – see SHOPPING IN PUNE). Parvez sells CD’s of Prashantji’s classes, exclusively, and accepts only cash.

Protocol before and during class

• Please bathe prior to class whether you attend morning or evening class (and ensure your feet are clean).

• Classes are large; come early to the yoga hall early (10 to 15 minutes minimum) to claim a space. If you are late coming into the hall, sit by the door to chant invocation. If you are late, do not walk around the room looking for a spot.

• During class, anyone who needs help jumping up into Adho Mukha Vrksasana or Pincha Mayurasana should line up against the rope wall and be ready when the helper arrives.

• Avoid doing Adho Mukha Vrksasana on the platform with feet pointing up under the Shiva statue; take care that you are not touching the photographs of Guruji with your feet (this is particularly relevant in the area near the entrance to asana room). Also, do not put your feet against the base of the Patanjali statue.

• During the months when classes are large, assistants will make certain that everyone has a place and the appropriate props (don’t panic!). Geeta, or whoever is teaching will not start until everyone is accommodated.

• Find a place and position yourself in the vertical rows radiating from the center of the room, in front of the platform where the teacher begins class.

• Talking in the asana room is generally kept to a minimum. Small talk is discouraged during practice sessions and while waiting for the class to begin. Confine your conversation to yoga-related topics.

• A request to “alternate yourself” means that the person in the center vertical line in front of the platform should lie with his or head toward the platform and the persons to the left and right of him or her should lie with their heads facing in the opposite direction of the center person. Continue in this manor to the end of the line. In Savasana, this allows you to spread your arms without restriction by placing them between each of your neighbor’s forearms and their torso.

Props

• Props for the asana class: The prop room is at the opposite end of the hall from which one enters. Prepare for the invocation by providing yourself with a sticky mat and the appropriate number of blankets to sit on.

• Props for Pranayama class: Make sure your fingernails are clipped before class. And have a handkerchief (tissues are not permitted in the class) on hand, in case you need one.

• When props are requested, they can be passed out of the prop room to the students. This applies to chairs, belts, blocks, bolsters and blankets.

• For efficiency and speed in collecting the props you need, it helps to be friendly to your neighbor and agree to watch props for each other and share the task of collecting them.

• Sticky mats are very valuable in Pune and the Institute takes great care to preserve them. Do not place wooden props or chairs on them, sticky mat pieces are available for this purpose. And do not fold the thick mats, even when carrying them or putting them on the floor. Many students bring their own sticky mats and donate them to the Institute at the end of their stay, and this is much appreciated.

• NO FEET ALLOWED ON THE BLANKETS UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES!

• Setting up the mats for Sarvangasana: Pair up with another student and carry the required number of mats between you. Generally, four rows of mats are placed in straight lines, parallel to one another. The first row is placed three feet from the front of the stage and successive rows are arranged with three feet between them.
The piled mats provide the base for Sarvangasana. More height (a folded sticky mat and blanket) may be added if required. You may be asked to “alternate yourself” for Sarvangasana, particularly if you are going to do the variations. Do not, however, assume that the setup for each class is exactly the same. Listen carefully to the teacher and assist one another so the class can proceed smoothly.

- Do not leave the hall until all the props are put back in the closet and the windows closed. Endeavor to put away more props than you used. This will ensure that cleanup is quick and easy.

Observing classes

- When observing a class, do not leave until it’s finished! In addition, be aware of how you are impacting the students taking the class. This is of the utmost importance. If you are sitting at the back of the room near the windows, act responsibly by moving to make space for those attending class.

- If you are sitting in the stairwell observing, you must allow students to enter and exit the second floor classroom. The stairwell is circular, therefore it’s dangerous for all concerned if you stay on the staircase when classes are changing.

Taking photographs is strictly forbidden, either of classes or of the students in the practice session. However, permission may be granted in certain circumstances; ask Abhijata if you wish to take a picture or two of the children’s class.

Guidelines for women

- Menstruating women are assigned to a designated area at the back of the asana room where they follow a sequence of prescribed poses. Tell an assistant that you are menstruating as soon as you arrive at class. Do not join the class if you are having your period and then drop out during inversions, i.e., don’t wait until Sirsasana to tell someone you have your period. It is very distressing to Geetaji when someone decides they don’t need to be “on the side.” This is considered very rude.

- Dress respectfully for class, e.g., a short-sleeved T-shirt, not a close-fitting tank top or camisole with spaghetti straps. Remember to tuck your t-shirt into your shorts (the t-shirt will need to be long enough for this).

- If you have long hair, tie it back (both sexes).

Tradition, etiquette and other helpful tips

- While waiting to enter the hall for class, stay to the left side of the stairwell so those leaving class can descend.

- If you are unwell, e.g., if you have diarrhea or a migraine, you should tell an assistant immediately upon arrival to class and follow their instructions. You won’t remain in the regular class but will join a separate group and practice a modified sequence. If you have a fever, bed rest is best—stay home.
• When sitting facing the stage listening to a discourse by Geetaji or Prashantji, do not display the soles of your feet. Unless told otherwise, cross your legs or fold them to the side, or sit in Vajrasana or Virasana.

• Gifts of food to the Iyengar family must be pure vegetarian (even “fancy” chocolate contains eggs) but really, it is best not to give food of any kind, especially left over food. Cash donations are always appreciated as they benefit the needy and go to fund many projects in Bellur.

Holidays at the Institute

(Please note: These dates are approximate; check Google for exact dates for a particular year.)

• Republic Day – January 26
• Gudi Padwa – March 20. (per Hindu calendar)
• Hanoman Jayanti – April 2 (per Hindu calendar)
• May – Institute is closed for the entire month
• Guru Purnima – July (per Hindu calendar)
• Independence Day – August 15
• Ganesh Purnima – September (per Hindu calendar)
• Daserra – October (per Hindu calendar)
• Patanjali Jayanti – November 7 – no evening classes
• Diwali – Date varies, it can be October or November (per Hindu calendar). Diwali is a five-day festival starting November 5, 2010 and Oct 26, 2011. Expect the Institute to close for at least three days. There will be non-stop fireworks in the streets the week before and after Diwali. “Many of us left town during Diwali because of the noise and smoke in the neighborhood. Goa is a good Diwali-break destination—one hour by plane from Pune. Other students headed to the KARE Ayurvedic retreat at Mulshi Lake, an hour’s drive from Pune.”

GETTING AROUND PUNE

Auto rickshaws

The best and most economical way to get around Pune:

Always make sure the driver starts the meter. This means do not accept the driver asking for more money before you start. Find another rickshaw if this happens (there are always plenty around).
Auto rickshaw driver Nana and Amin, are recommended by Iyengar students. They speak English and are reliable and punctual if a booking time is confirmed. If the time is not confirmed and you are told to call “when you are ready” be aware they may not be available when you call. They can also arrange for airport transfers and take you to unfamiliar locations in Pune, and wait while you sightsee, shop, etc. Both drivers charge metered rates. Tel: Nana: 989-033-9346. Amin: + 91 9604933059/9561254020

Alternatively call (via cell phone) the place you wish to visit and have someone there give directions to your driver.

Another alternative is to print out the address of your destination and give it to the driver, but this is less reliable as not all drivers read or speak English.

Mr. Shewte, another reliable driver, can be reached at 976-365-5547 or 942-235-2578.

Taxis

Ola cabs are a great way to get around town and affordable, the number is: 020-33553355. Website: http://www.olacabs.com/car-rentals/pune

Uber (a smart phone app to connect riders with drivers (taxi, private car or rideshare) has arrived in Pune, see the website for details: www.uber.com/cities/pune

Important Note: It is not advised to go out alone after 10:00 pm. It is not 100% safe, even around the Model Colony area.

THINGS TO DO IN PUNE, AND BEYOND

A must see for those interested in the cultural history of Pune and beyond: Raja Dinkar Kelkar Museum, one collector’s extensive and eclectic collection of folkloric and spiritual artifacts from all parts of India. 1377-78, Natu Baug, off Bajirao Road, Shukrawar Peth, Pune 411002. Website: http://www.rajakelkarmuseum.com/index.asp.

Parvrati Hill. A collection of about five temples high up on Parvrati Hill. The best time to go is 5 pm, when the sun is down. At the top you can see the whole of Pune. It’s a 15-minute rickshaw ride from the Institute.

Shinde’s Temple located at Shinde Chhati, Wanowrie: as one student put it, “one of the most peaceful and beautiful temples I visited in Pune”.

Pataleshwar Cave Temples. Shivaji Nagar, not far from the Institute, from the 8th century.

Mahatma Phule Museum. Shivajinagar, Ghole Road, Tel: 020-553-2750. A dusty museum with artifacts, geology samples, etc. Interesting and a bit odd.
“A very nice weekend trip is to go to Panchgani and Mahabaleshwar, both Hill Stations from British times. There is a great View like the Grand Canyon and clean mountain air. We stayed at Mount View heritage hotel, est.1923 and liked it very much”.

Pune Heritage Walk

On Saturday and Sunday mornings there is a guided walking tour of Pune's historic sites and social history. It is led by a knowledgeable local historian wearing a speaker on his chest so all can hear. Book on the puneheritagewalk.com website and meet at 7am at the PMC building, near the Shivaji Bridge. Tel: 020 2570 9000/ 9012/ 9013. You might also like to join the Virasat Pune Club at: www.virasatpune.com/heritage-festival/virasat-pune-club/. Membership is free and it is a great way to explore Pune, visit heritage places and meet interesting people.

Swimming Pools

The new Marriott on Senapati Bapat Rd has a wonderful outdoor pool on the 2nd floor. It includes use of spa and is discounted during the week and (until now) it is very quiet, is chlorine free and the water is changed weekly.

Movie theaters

Day and weekend trips

A lovely place to stay is Mount View Heritage Hotel in Panchgani. Regular buses for Mahabaleshwar leave Swargate bus station, takes 2 hours and costs £1. The hotel is lovely and very peaceful. It is a nice overnight or weekend place to stay if you need fresh air and the sound of nature. http://www.hotelmountview.co.in/hotelmountview/

Karla and Bhaja caves are only about an hour from Pune, in Lonavla, off the Mumbai-Pune Highway. Though not as spectacular as the Ajanta and Ellora caves, they are very interesting. A day trip for four with an air-conditioned car should cost less than 2,500 rupees. Weekends the Karla caves are crowded with Hindu devotees—it’s frantic but fun, if that’s your cup of tea. The Bhaja caves are more serene. Both require a 20-minute steep uphill hike, so dress appropriately.

Aurangabad

Daulatabad Fort. This is a spectacular fort. If you are visiting the nearby Ellora Caves, take time to visit Cave Crystals Handicraft & Natural Stones, across from the Kailas Hotel and walking distance from Ellora Caves. It offers an array of beautiful stones and crystals for great prices. Milan Restaurant – great restaurant frequented by locals but not often by tourists.

Kailas Hotel. Tel: 024 372 44446. www.hotelkailas. If you plan on staying overnight in Aurangabad, this hotel is highly recommended.

Ajanta and Ellora Caves. This remarkable site is only a few hours from Pune. The magnificent temples and monasteries carved into the rocks contain sculpture and painting that represent Buddhist, Hindu and Jain art dating from 800 AD. The Kailasa Temple is twice the size of the Parthenon; the life of the Buddha is painted on the walls of another temple. Book a car and a driver in Pune and stay at a hotel in Aurangabad or near the caves.

From a student at the Institute: “I didn’t go, but I received a quote from The Traveler/Silver Jubilee Travelers of 16,000 rupees for two people, which included a driver with an air-conditioned car—way above my budget. The agent takes a heavy profit on the hotel room; it’s better if you can arrange the trip directly through a car service and book your own hotel.”

From another student: AC bus from Shivaj Nagar bus station leaves every half hour for Aurangabad—a 4-5 hr trip. Be sure to specify “AC Bus” From there, hire a car to the caves. Ajanta is a 3 hour drive and Ellora is 30-45 minutes from Aurangabad. You can also have your driver take you to Ajanta and then drop you off at a hotel in Ellora.

Recommended Hotel in Aurangabad:
The Lemon Tree
Wi-fi, restaurant, good service. Book weekends in advance.
Staff can arrange a car to the caves and a tour if you like. Recommended: one day for each site. Both are spectacular.

Highly recommended! The Best!
Sk. Sadeek—a very gracious generous spirit and native of Ellora is part owner of a lovely 32 member co-op fabric shop there called Aurangabad Handloom Products. Sadeek can arrange for cars to and from Ellora as well as guesthouse or hotel accommodations. He also knows all the “secrets” of the caves.
Tel: +919960589867

Aurangabad Silk Himroo Weaving Centre specialty fabric and textile store in Ellora sells a wide range of silk saris, shawls, scarves, bedspreads, pillow covers, purses and more. The fabrics are made by a local cooperative of men and women who have looms in their homes. It takes them 3-5 days to make one scarf and the work is excellent. Many of the designs are inspired by the caves at Ellora. Prices are very reasonable. The owner, Riyaz Zuriz, warmly welcomes students from RIMYI and is of course open to discounting.
Gut No 7, Aurangabad Ellora Road, Nandrabad, Nandrabad, Aurangabad, Maharashtra (opposite the Kailas Hotel). 431001, India  Tel +91 240 224 1600

Jejuri. A pilgrimage site, one hour from Pune.

KARE Ayurvedic Retreat. (See Ayurvedic resources.)

Lonavala. There is a new luxury Hilton Shillim Estate Retreat and Spa up in the Lonavala hill area (about midway between Pune and Mumbai):
“Scenery, food, service were all excellent. It is quiet and relaxing. Just what we wanted during the noise of Diwali in the city. We hired a driver and it took about 2 hours on the way up and 1.5 hours on the way back. You stay in villas which are spread out over huge acreage so it is very private. I would definitely go back again if the opportunity arises.”

Matheran. This incredible place to visit is only three hours from Pune. No cars are allowed in Matheran. Walking, horseback riding and man powered rickshaws are the only modes of transportation. The views here rival Hawai'i’s. There is a 900 foot zip line crossing over a 1000 foot valley – a must try. Laxman Nagu Akhade, and his brother, Naresh Akhade are reliable horse guides: tel: 94 21966313, and their horses are well taken care of. Student's comments: “The air is good but on the weekends the pathways get extremely dusty from all the visitors. When going riding or walking go early or late in the day. Get back before nightfall as the pathways are not lit. The views are only OK during the dry season due to pollution but still it was a lovely visit. The miniature train to the top is fun although slow, it is just as nice to walk. There is a barrage of drivers and guides waiting for you at the entrance/exit to Matheran, best to book your needs in advance.”

Longer trips

Agra. Fly to Delhi, and then drive to the Taj Mahal.

Diveagar, Konkan Coast. A rural, non-commercialized, beach town, this is Goa without the glam. Most people do not speak English, the accommodations are very basic, no frills. It is a very beautiful, peaceful seacoast town surrounded by jungles and rice fields. To visit, contact Vikram Moore (p.13).

Darjeeling. Drink first flush tea in the Himalayan Alps.

Nasik. Recommended by an Iyengar student: “This is on the Godavari River, one of India's holiest rivers. Nasik serves as a base for pilgrims and is host to the largest religious gatherings on earth. The Ramkund bathing tank was one of the highlights of my visit. Hindu pilgrims arrive daily to bathe, pray, and immerse the ashes of departed family members into the Godavari River.”

Hotek Abhisek is walking distance to all of the temples, ghats, restaurants, etc. This is one of the more modern hotels near the river. Tel: 2514201. Hotabhi

Sikkim. A little-known Indian territory nestled between Tibet, Bhutan and Nepal—it's an Eco-travelers paradise. Tel: 948-431-8497. Email: gyatsok@yahoo.com. Website: www.sikkimvacation.com.
Varanasi. Consider visiting one of the holiest cities in the world. A travel agent can assist you. Most RIMYI students stay at the Ganges View Hotel.

TRAVEL AGENTS/TOUR COMPANIES

*A word of advice from your editor: when booking with any of these companies, particularly if English is not your first language, be really clear and absolutely specific about the type of hotel (three star etc.) you require, the type of tour you want and your travel dates so that there are no misunderstandings.

Review from our Customer
"They were the most patient, helpful, gracious couple to work with. I had a hard time making decisions and changed my plane and train tickets a few times and they put up with my back and forth and helped me every step of the way. They stayed in touch while I was traveling to make sure that everything was ok. It was delightful just to sit and talk to them in their office. Cannot recommend them highly enough."

CURRENCY AND BANK INFORMATION

The currency in India is rupees. Warning! Travellers to India are now restricted in the amount of foreign currency they can bring in to the country.

Many commercial establishments, such as hotels, department stores, airlines, etc., accept MasterCard and Visa credit cards. Be aware that credit card companies have started charging foreign currency conversion fees of two to three percent.

It is advisable to always carry sufficient cash. For most transactions—at restaurants, Internet cafés, small stores, grocers and pharmacies—you’ll need cash.

Money

- Check rupee bills carefully when exchanging money. Reject heavily creased or torn bills, as no one will accept them. Staple holes (where the notes are held together in bundles) are acceptable.

- There are foreign exchange agents at the international airport and a few hotels in the city that are authorized to change money.

- Bank of Maharashtra (top end of Hari Krishna Mandir Road) no longer changes traveler’s checks. The closest branch, with new installations and a friendly staff, is on Fergusson College road, across the street from the Lalit Mahal Restaurant. Its exchange rate is better than at the Institute or the Thomas Cook exchange offices. Bring your passport.

- The most convenient way to get money is at an ATM, which can now be found almost anywhere. However, many banks (e.g., Citibank, Chase) charge exorbitant fees to process withdrawals overseas, so before leaving, find out what their rates are. Also, not all credit cards work in all machines, so if at first you don’t succeed, be prepared to do a little research. There is a Citibank ATM with a guard near Pune University that is open 24/7 and another one on the block of the Toyota dealership that closes for the guard’s mid-afternoon break. It is standard that one can only withdraw 10,000 rupees per transaction when using a foreign card, however if you have a Citibank card from the US you may be able to withdraw 20,000+ rupees at a time. Citibank US can also provide you with a special travel ATM card linked to a travel account so you can protect your main account from theft.

- A bank representative also comes to RIMYI to change traveler’s checks and foreign currency to rupees during morning practice sessions from 11 am to noon. More rupees are given for cash than checks. Do not bring more than a few
TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Time Zones: Pune is 9½ hours ahead of the U.S. Eastern Standard Time in summer and 10½ hours ahead in winter. India is 3½ hours ahead of South Africa.

Telephone Information: 197 or 183.

To call India from the U.S., dial 011-91-20 for Pune, and 011-91-22 for Mumbai, followed by the telephone number.

To call Australia from Pune, dial 0061 followed by the telephone number, including the area code.

When calling local landlines when in Pune dial 020 before the number.

When calling Indian cellphones dial a 0 before the 9.

To call the U.S. from India, dial 001 followed by the telephone number, including area code.

To call Pune from South Africa, dial 09-91-20 followed by the telephone number.

To call South Africa from India, dial 00-27 followed by the number.

When calling RIMYI, Pandu, tel (91-20) 2565 6134, may be reached during the following hours: From 9 am to 11 am, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; and from 4 pm to 6 pm, Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Most apartments in Pune have a landline, or at least an incoming one, so people can always phone you. Some may have a Tata Indicom prepaid phone; for 200 rupees you can buy units for the card and use it to phone anywhere in the world. Getting an Indian cell phone is becoming harder with new anti-terror laws in effect and residency is often required. It is advisable to bring with you a cell phone that is unlocked to work on any network.

You can use your GSM cell phone internationally, but it is cheaper to buy a local SIM card (this is the chip that gives you phone service). A store assistant at a cell phone store can unlock your cell phone to enable you to use an Indian SIM card but it is more reliable to do so at home before you go. You pay about 20 rupees for the SIM and then the same number of rupees per minute, so if you pay 375 rupees, you get 375 local minutes. Be sure to ask for “full talk time” when buying minutes. When you call outside the country, the rupees to minutes ratio increases. In 2012, it cost about 12 cents a minute to call the U.S. from a cell phone. Also see Roots and Wings under Travel Agencies, they will recharge your prepaid phone cards.

Please note: The Indian government has tightened the restrictions severely on foreigners purchasing Indian SIM cards in the wake of the Mumbai attacks because stolen SIM cards were used there. To obtain a SIM card, you will need a copy of your Registration of Foreigner C-Form supplied by your landlord (although not all landlords will supply this form if they are renting off the books); a copy of your visa and passport and a passport photograph. The most effective way to get phone service is to go to a mobile providers main office, there are several placed around the city. Give yourself at least an hour to get things up and running as well as make certain your phone is functioning properly, meaning make a call and see it connects, before you leave the shop. For data, 3G service is available in India. Also, if you are using data be sure to check it is functioning before you leave the shop. Both phone service and data service on the mobile phone is good and reliable. A main Vodafone store is fairly close to Model Colony in the area called Wadadewadi on Central Avenue, never too crowded and perfectly nice to sit in and wait.

From a student: “…I found out the hard way that it even more difficult to get a SIM card now. Not only do you have to provide all the required documentation, now you have to go through a verification process. I had to speak with an agent at the phone company who verified and validated my application a day or two after the submission. Thereafter I had to charge the SIM with Rs 25/ and then Rs 2/ before I could add any value to the card. This was key - I had just bought the roughly Rs 400/ special deal and expected that amount would be credited to my SIM but it would not be the case. Only after charging the SIM with the additional Rs 25/ and Rs 2/ did it allow the 400 to be charged. NOTE: this additional 25 and 2 amount/ may be different for different providers - you may have to ask and find out. So, this whole process delayed me actually having a usable SIM by 3-4 days”.

• Ask your landlady to help by providing the relevant documents ahead of time.

MOBILE PHONE: sim card purchase
From a student: ‘If you walk from Deep Banglow Chowk past the row of fruit and veg stalls, about 3 stalls further than the last fruit and veg stall, you will find a stall that sells “idea” sim cards. The stall- holder is called Shiva Rathal. Although he has little English he obtained our sim cards in 48 hours, once we had provided the usual documentation. His number is 9175211643, which is helpful if a Marathi speaker was helping you.’

Or you can buy a calling card (paper sheets with code numbers printed on them). Get one at the post office and purchase the maximum units. Editors note: Two conflicting reports were sent in on calling cards. The last I heard from a student was that she was unable to buy a calling card from any post office. If anyone has any ideas on where these can be purchased, please let me know. Also, phone cards often don’t work so don’t count on them.

These cards make calling home much easier. You can use them on your private (landline) phone in your apartment or hotel room.

You will find ISD (International Subscriber Dialing) booths in every nook and cranny and on every street corner. From these booths you can make international calls and pay for them in cash. They’re quite expensive, for example, calling the UK may cost about seven rupees a minute. A convenient and quiet booth is located at the Chetak hotel (some of the others can be very noisy).

To get dongle (wireless internet access for your laptop) while in India, you can go to the 3-G store on Ferguson College Road. You will need a completed C form (completed by your landlord and certified at the police station), a copy of a telephone or electric bill from your landlord, a clear, readable copy of your passport and visa, a color passport photo (get one across the street from the 3-G store). The 3-G store prefers that you pay in rupees, not with a credit card. The cost is approx. 2000 rupees.

Editors note: when booking your apartment, ask your landlord or landlady if the apartment has Wi-Fi. If it doesn’t, move on! It’s common for apartments to offer Wi-Fi these days.

Editors note …also social messaging apps, provided you are both on Wi-Fi, such as Whatsapp, Viber, WeChat, and Line are free for phone calls and texting.

Internet Cafes

The Chetak currently has Wi-Fi access, which is fairly reliable and it’s nice to take a tea or lime soda while using the Internet. Rs/- 30 per hour.

The Ambassador Hotel provides Internet access at 200 rupees per use, and although it’s expensive, it saves you a trip to the Reliance on Fergusson College Road, where you pay a fixed rate of 300 rupees each time you log on.

Internet World is located on the FC Road opposite the petrol station: walk to FC Road from Toyota corner and turn right. They have a bunch of PC’s and charge 10 Rupees per hour.

Pune Central: near the entrance, Wi-Fi.

Facebook page: Visiting Iyengar Institute (RIMYI) Pune?
This group is intended for people currently visiting the RIMYI in Pune for yoga practice and study. You can add, exchange or update information, contact other students, arrange to share trips or shopping expeditions, find or share accommodation, notes, swap or donate things that you no-longer need - its yours to do as you like with! Also useful for people planning a future visit. So please come on in. At present this is an OPEN group to facilitate joining. We can re-evaluate this if it seems to be necessary.

HEALTH AND MEDICAL CONCERNS

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (U.S.). Refer to this government website for information on vaccination since recommended shots may depend upon the season. Website: www.cdc.gov/vaccines.

This was sent to us by a teacher traveling to Pune for the first time: “I went to the county health department located at a local hospital and they recommended a tetanus/diphtheria shot, a typhoid shot and a hepatitis shot. They also gave me prescriptions for antibiotics for respiratory infections and diarrhea, and for malaria. I am going ahead with it all just to be on the safe side.”

Water

It is advisable to drink bottled water or filtered water. Most restaurants have filtered water but you should inquire before drinking it. Do not drink water directly from the tap. You can purchase packaged purified water or pay a deposit on a dispenser drum with a tap. Stores will deliver the 20-liter refill that fits on top of a dispenser drum.

UV Steripen and Nalgene bottle: From a student: “$88 at Amazon, this is a great investment if you are traveling and have doubts about water. I used this, even with unfiltered water in my apartment, and I stayed healthy for three months in India this past trip. The UV light kills everything in the water and the rays can’t exit the water surface, so it is safe.”

Check that water filters in apartments are serviced. They need to be serviced every year to be effective. From a local resident yoga student: “Our daughter has had filtered drinking water since she was a baby. It is better quality than bottled water and has no excess plastic.”

Gastrointestinal precautions

Living in a tropical country, one can be prone to gastrointestinal infections. December is considered to be a “safer” season, but it is advisable to err on the side of caution. Always eat food that has been freshly cooked and is hot. Avoid eating frozen, precooked food or raw food that has not been washed in filtered water (or in salted water). Use water purification tablets or silver filters. Avoid infection by washing your hands frequently.

GSE

To prepare the intestinal tract for the potential onslaught of new bacteria and parasites, you should start to take GSE (grapefruit seed extract) one week before departure and continue taking it throughout your stay in India. “I took some when I got a stomach upset and it cleared it up quickly – not sure I would take it as a preventative though.” It is a horrible-tasting goop, but with fruit juice or yogurt, it’s easier to ingest. Another way to take it is to add it to a fizzy vitamin C drink (Emergen-C) or Airborne. GSE also boosts the immune system and is a good remedy for candida.
Malaria

There is a lot of malaria in India, and mosquitoes can be a problem. Mosquito repellents in the form of vaporized liquids may be used. Common brands All Out and Good Night are available at any drug store or general store. Mosquito repellent ointments are also available. Cover yourself up (long sleeves, long pants—like the locals dress) from dusk to evening hours.

Pollution

Pollution is pretty bad in Pune. It is less bothersome during the monsoon season in July and August. You can purchase an I Can Breathe® mask with a carbon filter at www.Icanbreathe.com or www.magellans.com. Sally Rutzky, from Ann Arbor, who has been to Pune eight times over the last 20 years, said that she used one in January and that it was the very first time she did not contract a sinus infection. Change the filter and wash the mask on a weekly basis.

Amazon is another source of MSA N95 masks for a good price: 20 pack for $19.

Here is another mask: 3M Face Mask. 9332. EBay

Healthy hygiene reminders

- Use bottled water for brushing your teeth and cleaning your toothbrush. Keep shower water out of your eyes and mouth. You can buy hydrogen peroxide at a local pharmacy.

- In some places (though not all) the use of toilet paper is not a tradition in India. Water is always provided in Indian toilets (including the one at the Institute) for washing after using the toilet; use only your left hand for this. Take your toilet paper to the Institute (for drying purposes only); place it in the wastebasket near the toilet.

- After using the toilet, wash your hands and feet before coming into the asana hall.

- Traditionally, Indians eat with their right hands (see above for Indian toilet customs).

- Eat the local yogurt (curds), which provides good bacteria (lactobacillus acidophilus) that reduce the number of bad bacteria in the gut. In addition, it is a good idea to take some kind of probiotic (good bacteria) supplement—you can get it at any good health food store. Additional fiber in the diet (such as Metagenics Herbulk or a similar mixed-fiber product) can also be useful. Efficient elimination reduces the risk of a parasitic infection.

- Products such as Tyler Para-Gard and Metagenics Ultra Parex are worth taking on a daily basis. They both contain a blend of anti-parasitic herbs. Garlic is also an effective antibacterial and anti-parasitic herb.

- Carry cold and cough medications that you like, so that if you happen to contract a respiratory infection, you'll have these items on hand. It's common to get a cold while visiting. Herbal tea can be handy as well.

- A neti pot and salt used at the end of each day is a good preventative and helps rid one of pollution.

Parasites
If anyone gets parasites they should get to a local doctor and follow up when back home as parasite infections tend to recur if not completely eliminated.

Prani Project. In October, 2012 Suzie Muchnick met Shraddha Pandey. They had three things in common: their love of animals, being Vegan and wanting to help the stray cats and dogs in Pune, specifically, but not exclusively in Model Colony. Shraddha and her two friends, Mudra Shirvaikar and Abha Bhosekar have been for several years now, been actively involved in coordinating and gathering stray and injured dogs and cats to administer veterinary care, and to sterilize, and vaccinate them.

They do this out of their own pockets. In October, 2013 Suzie and some other visiting Iyengar practitioners left Shraddha with some funds to sterilize and vaccinate a mother dog and a male cat who was living around the Institute. (In fact, they were able to do much more with these small funds).

Street dogs are an inseparable part of the Indian landscape, and are often faithful companions to many. However their unchecked proliferation and increased pack size have become a nuisance for the citizens, and has incited hatred and violence towards these innocent beings. Armed with this knowledge and an undying love of the canine species, Prani Project volunteers have taken it upon themselves to survey local dogs, organize sterilization, co-ordinate surgeries, assist the sterilization dog-catching squad through their sessions, maintain detailed records, and ensuring the animals proper release and post-operative care. Volunteers also undertake monthly annual vaccination drives against Rabies in various pockets of the city, and promote adoption of stray pups.

In spite of tireless efforts of civic bodies and animal welfare organizations, the population of stray dogs in Pune remains large. However the scenario has changed to one of hope and positive action, thanks to awareness among citizens and growing number of volunteers.

The CNVR model (Capture-Neuter-Vaccinate-Release) of the Animal Birth Control program run under PMC, has lately begun to show promising results due to the disciplined co-ordination of dedicated citizen volunteers.

FOOD

Vegetarian food in India includes milk and milk products, but not eggs, which along with seafood are considered to be non-vegetarian. Prepackaged foods are marked with either a red or green dot in a square frame, denoting non-vegetarian and vegetarian food, respectively.

The most popular foods in Pune are thali and South Indian food. A thali literally means "a plate." A thali generally includes two or three vegetables, pulses (peas, beans or lentils), salad, curd (yogurt), dal, and chapati or roti. Most thali restaurants provide an unlimited amount of food at a fixed price. A thali is a wholesome, nutritious meal.

Restaurants - Thali and South Indian Cuisine

Asha Dining Hall. 1224, Apte Road, Shivaji Nagar. Across the street from Hotel Shreyas. Behind the Danraj Co-Housing Society sign (a very visible sign—the Asha sign is hidden by a tree). This thali restaurant serves decent, wholesome food at a reasonable price. Tel: 2553 2424; 6602 7149. A favourite with Iyengar students.

Badshashi. Tilak Road.

Charus. On Gokhale Road near the vegetable market serves good South Indian cuisine (dosas and uttapams) as well as the standard North Indian and Chinese menus. A ten-minute walk from the Institute—great for a quick bite after morning practice.

Darshan: Prabhat road. From a food blogger and Iyengar student, "Just an weird assortment of delicious food. It's almost like the owner decided what dishes he was going to make and then decided to make them without referring to any recipe or person that might know anything about the dish. All the food is surprisingly delicious, although bears little or no resemblance to the original dish. Try the pizza; it is not even close to anything that you might know as pizza. The supreme pizza has cashews and raisins on it. I’ll leave it at that!” This place has a nice pomegranate juice drink.

Horn OK Please. Bohemian Café. South Indian food. Best Kulfi in town. FC Road, Next to Sagar Arcade (a little further along FC Road than Roopali Restaurant). Tel: 25513227. Email: pepinospune@hotmail.com.

Jagruti Dining Hall. Raviwar Peth. A thali favorite, near the Sugandhi perfume store (opposite the railway booking office). Tel: 2445 3231.

Panchavanti Gaurav. Stilt floor, Kotwal Complex, near PYC Hindu Gymkhana, Bhandarkar Road, Pune, 411 005 (adjacent to Deccan Gymkhana). Tel: 25672141. Provides a more elaborate thali for a slightly higher price.

Pune Coffee House is a pure vegetarian restaurant located on Moledina Road. It serves a good cup of coffee and a wide variety of vegetarian food including South Indian, Punjabi, Chinese and continental. This partially air conditioned 180-seat restaurant is open from 08:00 to 23:00 hrs. Well recommended restaurant with a great vibe and popular amongst Indians. A small room is available for banquets. Location: Pune Camp, 2 A, Moledina Road. Phone: +91-20-26130716

Rasoi Dining Hall. Shaniwar Peth, Pune 30. Tel: 24453066/24456211.

Shreyas Hotel Restaurant. 1242, Apte Road, Deccan Gymkhana. “Great all-you-can-eat thali.”

Highly recommended: Sukanta Pure Veg. 636, Deccan Gymkhana, near Z Bridge, off Jangli Maharaja Road, Pulachi Wada. They do great takeout. Open from 11:30 am to 3 pm and 7 pm until closing. “It gets very busy after 8 pm.” Tel: 2553 0077; 6601 3222.

Other popular South Indian foods include idli, dosas, uttapam and wada pav. Basically fermented foods composed of powdered pulses and rice, they take care of most of your daily dietary requirements and are extremely tasty. The main dish is accompanied by side dishes, or chutneys, made of coconut and chilies, and sambhar, which are sometimes a little spicy. The main dish is not spicy.

Shiv Sagar. Veg Restaurant. Dealing Cournor, Jangali Maharaj Road, Opp Sambhaji Park. Tel: 25532179/255368886. Serves great tandoori panir and vegetables.

Thali Dining Hall, Ambedkar Road (next to the Ramakrishna Hotel, directly opposite West End Talkies/Theatre), Camp, Pune. Walk up a little staircase to reach it. Gujarati/ Punjabi Thali restaurant.

Rajasthani & Gujurati Thali food at Mayur. This is just a small cozy restaurant with loads of food! http://www.mayurthali.com/home.html

Or
Popular Fergusson College Road restaurants serving South Indian food

Lalit Mahal. End of Hare Krishna Mandir Road (beyond the Chetak and the Ambassador) at the junction of Fergusson College Road. Good basic food. At breakfast time, you can get great upma. They serve real coffee. Tel: 2556 6457.

Roopali. Fergusson College Road. Has very good thalis. They also serve good upma at breakfast time (get there before 10:30am). Very popular with the locals. The staff is friendly and understanding.

Shravan. Around the corner from the Lalit Mahal on Fergusson College Road, left, toward the police ground. Shravan always has fresh flowers and clean linen on its tables, and it’s reasonably priced with a varied menu. Tel: 2565 4914.

Vaishali. Fergusson College Road. Good dosas, great sweet kachuries.

Shabree Restaurant. Ethnic Maharastrian Thali: 1199/1A, F.C. Road, Pune. Tel: +91-20-25531511/2/3/4. They also have a wonderful ice cream parlor just to the right of the entrance to the restaurant.

Other popular restaurants offering a variety of foods:

Amrapali. Fergusson College Road (down the lane, near Roopali, then ask).

Aroma Restaurant – The Ambience Hotel. Lakaki Road, Model Colony.

Aappa Located next to Deccan Gymkhana Grounds, not at all a fancy place, no signage, popular with the locals. Excellent Idli and Sabhudson Khichadi. Closes at noon.

Cafe Good luck Deccan Gymkhana, FC Road, phone: 020-25676893 This is as close as you will get to a Indian diner. Popular with students. Editor: I just go for the unspoiled interior. I hope they never modernize!

Recommended: Ram Krishna. 6, Moledina Road, Camp. Opposite the West End Theatre. This high-end restaurant is the perfect place to dine when shopping on M.G. Road. At the exterior are huge murals of the Ramayana. Ask to sit in the inner dining room where it’s air conditioned and quiet. Gracious waiters. Tel: 020 - 2633 0724; 2636 3938.

Red Peppers: Opposite the Ambassador Hotel, Model Colony. New and highly recommended by locals.

Shabree. 119/1A, Fergusson College Road. Tel: 2553 1511/2/3/4.
Surya Hotel Restaurant, now called Hotel Rendezvous. Apte Road.

Restaurant for lunch or dinner, also nice and bustling on the weekends: Shabree and Sharvaree. FC Road near to Fergusson College Gate, located just off the corner behind a temple. Tel: 020-255-31511. The two restaurants are in the same building. Shabree, located downstairs, has what they describe as "Maharashtrian Thali" and Sharavree, which is upstairs, has typical Indian fair with some local selections as well. They are both a little pricey compared to other places on F.C. Road but nice if you want a break from the hustle and bustle and you need a/c.

The German Bakery has reopened but the ambience is totally different to the charming down-to-earth old German Bakery. It is now a fancy gourmet restaurant. If you want to experience the old German Bakery hospitality walk about 100 meter down towards B Lane and look for the Yogi Tree Coffee Shop.

Note from a student: "The little silver shop next door to the bakery is living in fear of his livelihood as they are bulldozing all illegal shops and stalls in that area. We watched them doing it – tragic".

The Yogi Tree Coffee Shop.
Lane 8 Koraegon Park, here you can find London muffins, bagels, pound cake and other international bakery products.

Out Of The Blue is a restaurant at E Square at the Lobby Level where the old Jazz by the Bay used to be. Website - http://www.outoftheblue.in/out-of-the-blue-pune.html

Tien. shop no 1 Rajas Garden, opposite the Hanuman temple, Model Colony (near MSIHMCT), Pune 411016. Tel : 02065116639, 9881060997, 9822047392
Highly recommended by a number of students: "A sweet little cafe/restaurant serving global gourmet food. The food is fresh, delicious and healthy." Examples of food are open multigrain sandwiches, salads, wholewheat pasta, freshly squeezed juices. Free WiFi is available.

Miscellaneous food around Pune

Le Meridian Ice Cream
Ambedkar Road (in front of the Thali Dining Hall), Camp, Pune. Highly recommended; clean for a street stall and fresh products.

An Iyengar student from Pune who lives in New York now writes a food blog and suggested these places and items to me.”
Editor: much of this list comes with no address. If you manage to track any of this down, please send me details!

Marzorin (very simple white bread sandwiches like you've never had before). Highly recommended.

Budhani. This is a store that makes fresh potato chips and sprinkles it with your choice of spice. It is right opposite Marzorin. After this Lays just won't cut it.

Mainland China. Boat Club Road. This is a completely different cuisine. Indian/Chinese. Now also in Senapati Bapat Road: 15 minutes walk from the Institute.

Kayani Bakery for the best Parsi confectioneries with recipes from the British Raj.

Bakers Basket, a bakery on Bhandarkar Rd sells the best Black forest pastry you'll ever have. When I lived there, they soaked it with pure Rum. Hopefully they’re still continuing the tradition.

Coconut Water from a street vendor. You'll find this pretty much anywhere and realize how Zico is just a lot of rubbish!

Curry on the Roof: Prabhat Road. Good Punjabi food.

Panchavati: A good traditional Maharashtrian thali.

Ban Tao: at Ista Hotel for Thai and Asian. (great ambience)

Rooftop Bar at Paasha at Marriott Hotel and Convention Centre. Great Indian food.

Aadha at O Hotel rooftop also a great place.

Cake Shop - Forennte (020 324000450) & London Muffin @ Lane 8, Between Lane 6 and 7 Koregaon Park. Closed on Thursdays. Forennte has the best chocolate éclair in town.

Little Italy Pizzeria Restaurant, next to Pune Central, on University/Ganesh Kind Road (around the corner from RIMYI), is a regular haunt for RIMYI students who crave a change from Indian food. It is a bit pricey: 800 rupees for a meal with a mocktail (fresh juice). It is all vegetarian and has Mexican and Indian as well as Italian menus. It’s part of a large chain with locations throughout India.

Or if you’re in the mood: Over in Pune Camp at the SGS Magnum Mall on Moledina Road there is a Pizza Hut.
Polka Dots, Next to Bishops School, Kalyani Nagar and also at Aundh Shop No 1 & 6 Vaishnavi Apartment, D P Road, Aundh, Pune, Maharashtra 411007

Flags, next to Inox Multiplex.

Alto Vino at the Pune Marriott Hotel and Convention Centre.

Favola at Le Meridian Hotel.

Café Mangi at Pheonix Market City, Vimannagar and also at Amanora Park Town.

Buffets

Le Meridien Hotel. Bund Garden Road. The breakfast and lunch buffets can be a treat. It’s expensive—the lunch buffet includes unlimited wine. Le Meridien also has a rooftop pool where you can swim for around $10. Tel: 2605 0505.

The O Hotel, North Main Road, Koregaon Park Pune 411001

Home cooked lunch to go

Just opposite the institute gate lives Mrs. Thuse who cooks lunches. You leave your stainless steel stacking lunch box on the swing in front of her door before the morning class. By noon your lunch is ready: 4 chapatis, dal, plain rice and a medium-spicy vegetable course. Good.

Sweet Shops

Chocolate purveyor — next door to Fantasy on Boat Club Road.

Chitale in Deccan Gymkhana at the bottom of FC Road on the corner, near the “grounds” for the best Maharashtrian sweets.

Naturals Ghole Rd, Shivaji Nagar, Tel: 020 25521817. Ice-cream chain, quite delicious, not too sweet. Try the chiku ice cream. They offer flavors made from the fruits of the season.

Grocery Stores

* Auchan – French Hypermarket. Located in Karaegon Park next to the Westin Hotel at the basement of Keraegon Mall. It carries all international products including bhok choy, chinese kale and a large selection of Asian spices. There is meat/poultry/seafood section and a pastry corner with a wide selection of breads.

* Dorabjee’s, Moldina Road (just before M.G. Road, down the street from Mannys Bookstore) has almost everything you forgot to bring or could ever want, e.g., real Dutch Gouda cheese. This store now has a good supply of gluten free products. Dorabjee’s also has a great selection of organic cooking oils, flours, dahl, tahini, cereal, honey, spices, and almond milk.

* Foodland, on Bhandarkar Road, is large supermarket—it even has tampons.

* For all kinds of khakara, go to Kantaben, opposite Chitale’s Shop, Shanipar.

Natures Basket Limited A new grocery store with (rather pricey) health food options. Koregaon Park (across from Anokhi clothing store). Shop No.1 and 2, Ground Floor, Business Square, Plot no. 325/3, Lane No.5, Pune 411001.
Note: Upstairs is a furniture store with amazing coffee and tea, ask for a free coupon at Anokhi.

Maharashtra, “The Parade”, just around the (Toyota dealership) corner from Hari Krisna Mandir, now called Maharashtra Ice Cream Shop; has fresh milk, yogurt, ghee, spices, rice, mung dal, etc. and ice-cream. They are very helpful. Don’t be thrown by the line cutting. They now stock student requirements such as tofu, brown rice and pasta.

OM Supermarket, Gokhale Road. Model Colony.

Organics and Natural is a new shop. 1 Kamaliga Apartment, 1306 Bank of Baroda Lane, Jangli Maharaj Road. Open from 10 am to 2 pm and 4 pm to 8 pm. Closed Sunday. Tel: 2553 6835.

Pune Central shopping mall, opposite the Institute closed it’s food market and ATM.

Spicer College Store, in Wonderland, M.G. Road, is CLOSED for good.

Whole Foods, toward Bund Garden Road, carries brown rice, extra virgin olive oil, soy milk, etc.

Fruit and vegetable carts

The fruit and vegetable carts (the vegetable seller is a “bhaji wallah”) are outside the Institute daily from about 9 am to 11 am.

You can also go to the fruit and vegetable market near the Institute at the top of Hari Krishna Mandir Road (opposite the bank): Turn right at the Toyota dealership, pass the Maharashtra grocery store (where you can pick up staples like rice, oil, bread, milk and curd, as well as tea and coffee, Nescafé, spices) and walk straight ahead until you come to the next road (traffic junction “chowk”) and see Charu’s, a restaurant with yellow awnings. Turn right and walk on until you come to the market on your left. Often between 10 - 12 and 4 - 8 you will find vendors as well near the Toyota dealership and on the corner Charu’s is on.

There is a large vegetable market, which is fairly amazing called Mandai market. It is located next to Tulsi Baugh. The architecture of the building the market is in is also interesting. The vendors inside are more expensive while the quality of inside and outside seem to be the same. The best days to go are Saturday and early Sunday, as early as 8 am. In Tulsi Baugh one can find almost anything. It gets extremely busy on the weekends. Most stores open at 10, this is the best time to go. Most shops generally close from 12 – 4pm.

Large fruit and veg market on Gokhale Rd. near OM supermarket

Ingredients shopping list

If you are living in one of the apartments that Sharda is caring for (next to Hari Krishna Mandir Road), ask her to arrange to have Shantabai prepare Marathi food for you. Marathi cooking is basically the same as ayurvedic cooking.

You’ll need to buy the following basic ingredients:

Grains:
- Basmati rice (large bag)
- Rava, for cooking upma (it's like semolina)
- Poha (flattened rice)
- Flour for making chapati, paratha and other breads

Spices:
- Black mustard seeds
- Cumin seeds (jeera) and powder
- Turmeric powder (haldi) (whole fresh turmeric is available beginning in November at the open markets)
- Asafoetida (hing) (small container)
- Chili powder
- Cashew nuts
- Coriander powder and seeds
- Ginger powder
- Cardamom powder and whole cardamom seeds
- Saffola oil (large bottle)
- Ghee (clarified butter)

Pulses:
- Mung dal (lentils)

Other:
- Sugar (chinni)
- Tea, coffee, bottled water, etc.

Vegetables are “bhaji” in Marathi. The man at the Maharashtra store speaks English, so he can help you, otherwise ask Sharda to organize things for you. Or, you can either give Shantabai +/- 50 rupees (just over $1) once or twice a week and she will buy the vegetables for you. She has her flour ground at the mill to make chapati, etc. Shantabai or Gangubai also does the laundry daily. “We boiled tap water for tea and cooking. Our cooking expenses for the month came to $10 for two and our laundry cost us about $2 each a month.” “Prices have gone up all round since this was written,” a student commented.

Cook

Anita is a well-known cook at the apartment building next to the Institute. She will cook for students anywhere in the Model Colony area. Tel: 997-001-6270. Do not have her shop for you; buy your own food and necessities. Do not allow the help to bring others into the apartment when they are working.
Editor’s note: This is the only cook with phone number I have managed to find. There must be many more who would like to be listed. Please send in your recommendations.

SHOPPING IN PUNE

Ed: I myself have never experienced any problems at Mumbai airport with customs, but I have heard of students being asked to provide receipts from goods purchased in India. So, a word or warning: save your receipts!

Stationary, Paper Goods and Art Supplies

Hand Made Paper Institute. Tel: 2553 7383. K.B. Joshi Road (the continuation of Fergusson College Road across Vidyapeeth Road), on the edge of the agricultural college. Beautiful handmade paper, stationary kits and gift packages. Email: hmpinstpune@vsnl.net.

Staples office supplies – at the E-Square Multiplex.

Venus Traders. Tel: 2553 5757. Barista Lane. Just outside the Vaishali Restaurant, Fergusson College Road, second lane to the left. This store carries school and stationary supplies and blank CD’s, has sliding glass doors at its entrance and a clean, functioning toilet for customers.

Pawardhan’s Art Supplies. Next door to Venus Traders (above). 80559 85998 (mobile). Email: anantpatwardhan@yahoo.com.

Clothing, Crafts and Gifts

Artland near the German bakery and Anokea is a total rip off! They sell fake silver, fake stones and have a scam going with rickshaw drivers who bring people there for a "good deal from my friend".

Arnav. Geeta Bhojwani. B-31, Abhimanshree Society, Gate No. 3 Pashan Road, off University Flyover, Pune, 411-008. Geeta Bhojwani has been shopping for yogis for a long time and she knows what we want. Her home based one-stop-store is an Aladdin’s cave of hand selected works of art, jewelry and handicrafts from all over India. You will find lots of interesting gifts, some made by award winning artists, including beautiful hand screen printed paper, gift cards, good quality woolen and silk stoles and scarves, Patanjali statues and embroideries. I advise that two or three of you go together. Slow down and enjoy a cup of chai as you browse. Call before you go, to be picked up and dropped back home afterward (distance 4 kms from the institute).
Bagwan Aum Market. Laxmi Road (next to the Commonwealth building). A great collection of dupattas and scarves—a veritable feast for the eyes. Bring anything you want to color match. Second from the last shop on the left and across on the right. Ready-made dresses and western clothes (currently very popular in India). Tel: 2445 7226.

The Bombay Swadeshi Store, enjoys a unique legacy as one of the oldest stores in India, with roots that trace back to India’s freedom struggle. Incorporated in 1905, the idea was to promote Indian made products during the swadeshi movement. It was the first retail organization to be listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange. This store offers its customers an experience of India through products that reflect a blend of contemporary and traditional Indian Culture. Highly recommended by the Travelers’ guide "Lonely Planet". Rated as one of the best shopping destinations in Mumbai by Trip Advisor. Awarded Trip Advisor 2013 & 2014 “Certificate of Excellence”.

The coffee shop Gourmet Avenue and the day spa at the Hyatt Regency are great!

Tea

Makaibari Tea (http://www.makaibari.com/) They also deliver it to you. They are the best; a lot of the sanyasi’s buy big quantities and take back with them. Best organic tea: Mr. Raja 033 22 87 85 60 or (0) 9733 00 45 77

At Maharashtra Tea company (sorry no address was offered for this place), there are two lines: one for men on the right, and one for women on the left.

Laundry. Take your laundry to the Chetak Hotel and they will return it within two days day, washed, ironed and wrapped beautifully in newspaper and string. 30 Rupees per piece. * That said, go direct to any number of small laundry stalls, which will charge a whole lot less.

SHIPPING, PACKING and MAIL SERVICES

FedEx. Shop No. 1 Gera Garden, Ground Floor, next to the Taj Blue Diamond, Koregaon Park Road, Pune 411001. Open 9 am to 10 pm, Monday to Saturday.

DHL Express. Call Abhijut, Aastha or Roshan for the address of the nearest DHL Express center. Note from Editor: “There were mysterious restrictions on what I could and couldn’t send via DHL,” Sorry, no phone number.

Anil Bijlani
bijlanipaf@rediffmail.com
Telephone: 9823958999. Anil offers very fair rates using FedEx. Packages have arrived to New York within 3 days. His staff packs things well too. Service is mostly super efficient. Best to use him for good-sized packages. Located near the Le Meridian Hotel, about 10 minutes in a rickshaw from the Institute.

Mr. Pradeep Kulkarni is Pandu’s secretary. He can be contacted at RIMYI between 11 am and noon. Tel: 985-004-5191.
* Some students report disappointing service from Mr. Pradeep Kulkarni.

Mr. Sanjay Lopes, at Smita Paranjape’s apartment, opposite the Model Colony Post Office (look for “Ravi Pavanjape” on the outside wall of the building). Enter through the gates of the driveway where a car is parked. Mr. Lopes provides excellent packaging services, particularly catering to yoga students’ shipments abroad. Open 9 am to 6 pm; closed Sunday. Tel: 9405436175. Email: kalisriya@gmail.com.
* Mr. Lopes is the most reliable and the least pushy packaging person by far in Model colony. Highly recommended.
